Class Song

The class of nineteen eighteen,
Is now assembled here,
With hearts both sad and weary,
With many an unshed tear,
To say farewell to Armstrong,
To dear old Armstrong High,
And now we lift our voices,
To say our last good-bye.

CHORUS

Oh dear old Alma Mater,
Oh dear old Armstrong School,
Four years we've spent within thy walls,
Abiding by thy rule,
Thou hast become so dear to us,
We fain would stay away,
But now we all must leave thee,
Forever yes for aye.
